

Sample E-Letter to Send to Family, Friends, Neighbors, and Others

Hi!

With the election almost here, I wanted to touch base with you.

A reader in a popular website, Real Clear Politics recently said something that pretty well sums up my thoughts as well:

“Yes, President Trump’s tweets are boisterous in nature and hurt him. Yes, he certainly has flaws. At least I know he will fight for my rights and has demonstrated a willingness to do so. That’s why I’m voting for him. I can overlook everything else.”

The way I see it this election is too important to let the candidates’ personalities decide the outcome. I believe America is facing a crossroads. In one direction lies the traditional America you and I grew up in. In the other direction lies a rapid decline in the American way of life as we travel down the road toward socialism, and maybe something worse. In fact I think this is the most important election in our lifetimes. And that means the issues themselves are far more important than the candidates’ personalities.

So let’s look at a few key issues and see where each candidate stands.

JOBS AND THE ECONOMY

Before the Coronavirus struck, we had a record high stock market and record low unemployment. The economy was firing on all cylinders.

Under Trump, 401K plans have skyrocketed in value. That’s partly because Trump cut income tax rates and slashed corporate tax rates. He also erased a lot of Obama-era regulations that were choking the economy.

Then came the Coronavirus, followed by the massive economic shutdowns which destroyed millions of American jobs and businesses.

Incredibly, the economy is bouncing back pretty rapidly. Yet Biden has promised to shut it down the moment some so-called expert tells him he should. If we’ve learned anything from the Coronavirus it’s that the experts were wrong about as much as they were right.

So who do you trust more to rebuild the economy: Trump, who has already done it once, or Biden, who has already promised to raise taxes, replace gas and oil with solar panels and wind mills, and shut down the economy again?

I predict that under Biden our economy will sputter to a halt, the stock market will plunge, millions more Americans (perhaps some of our friends and neighbors) will lose our jobs, and our retirement savings could be wiped out.

SPEAKING OF THE CORONAVIRUS . . .

I know Trump has been criticized for his response to the outbreak, and of course there are probably things he could have done better. But let’s remember the pandemic is totally China’s fault. No serious person disputes that the virus originated in China and that China allowed people from infected areas to travel to Europe and the United States.

Once confronted with the crisis, Trump acted decisively. He halted all flights from China on January 31, before even one American died. That action alone saved hundreds of thousands, and perhaps millions, of lives. Biden responded by insulting Trump and calling him “xenophobic,” (although he later reversed himself and admitted Trump was right).

That episode tells me that if, God forbid, we’re hit with another deadly pandemic, Joe Biden may once again put politics ahead of the public health, and millions could die.

Bottom line is that although Trump no doubt made some mistakes in handling the Coronavirus, overall, he did as well as possible under the circumstances, and Biden would have done much worse.

CRIME AND PUBLIC SAFETY

This is an easy one. Joe Biden and the Democrats did nothing and said nothing as violent, Marxist, anti-American groups like Antifa and BLM burned our cities (led by Democrats) to the ground, looted stores, and assassinated police officers.

Then they launched a movement to defund the police.

Trump, on the other hand, condemned the rioters from the start and, when Democrat big city mayors allowed it, he sent in the National Guard to restore law and order. What’s more, nearly every major police group has endorsed President Trump, including some who don’t usually endorse anyone. As far as I know, Biden has received zero police endorsements.

So do you think your family will be safer under Joe Biden, or Donald Trump?

HEALTH CARE

Biden supported Obamacare and continues to do so. As you know that program was a disaster. Nearly everyone’s health insurance costs skyrocketed, and suddenly doctors became harder to find. Despite promises made by Obama and Biden, millions of Americans lost their doctor and/or their health care plan completely.

Trump is strongly opposed to Obamacare and tried to get Congress to repeal the entire thing. When that failed, Trump issued an executive order to repeal the worst part, the individual mandate. Then Trump issued an executive order that no health insurance company can deny coverage because of a pre-existing condition. And he issued a third executive order that U.S. drug companies can’t charge Americans more for imported drugs than people in those countries are paying.

So while Trump is on the road to creating a system far better than Obamacare.

Meanwhile Bernie Sanders, Alexandria Ocasio Cortez and the radical left are pressuring Biden to throw his weight behind Sanders’s socialized medicine scheme. If that happens, say hello to health care rationing, which is a key element of socialized medicine everywhere.

FREE HEALTH CARE FOR ILLEGALS

Where do you stand on this? You may recall that in the Democrats’ first presidential primary debate, the candidates were told to raise their hand if they supported “free” health care for illegals. Every single candidate raised their hand, including Joe Biden.

In my opinion, I'm already paying too much for my own health care plan; I certainly can't afford to pay for someone else's health care. If you agree, vote for Trump; if not vote for Biden.

BORDER SECURITY

Democrats support open borders; it's just that simple. I still remember the sight of millions of illegals streaming across our Southern border when Obama and Biden were in charge. Democrats don't even seem to care if the people who come across the border are terrorists or other violent criminals – and if you disagree, they call you a racist!

The Democrats' open borders policy could bankrupt our country with the costs of "free" health care, "free" education, "free" housing and more.

Then there's the crime, which poses a more immediate threat to you and your family. Because of the Obama-Biden policy, thousands of Americans – including children – have been raped, robbed and murdered by illegals, many of whom had been arrested several times and released. You can find hundreds of examples by doing a quick Internet search using the terms for "illegal aliens violent crime."

Maybe you assume your family is safe from all this, and I hope you're right. But don't you and I also have an obligation to be concerned about our fellow citizens and their families too?

Instead of open borders, Trump wants border security. He is building a wall and has virtually ended illegal immigration. Joe Biden would reverse Trump's policy and throw open the border to criminals and even terrorists. After all, Joe and his family will be safe and sound inside the White House with 24-hour Secret Service protection. The rest of us have to fend for ourselves.

FOREIGN WARS

Joe Biden has supported plenty of foreign wars during his 47 years in office, including the War in Iraq. Trump, on the other hand, has repeatedly demanded an end to our "forever wars" in Iraq, Afghanistan and elsewhere. In fact, Trump has pulled most U.S. troops out of both countries, and the only reason any troops are still there is the Pentagon and other powerful forces are fighting him tooth and nail.

Trump has shown by actions he's the peace candidate, and Biden is the "forever wars" candidate. Where do you stand?

RACE RELATIONS

For 60 years now, Democrats have talked a pretty good game when it comes to lifting blacks out of poverty, but poverty, crime, illiteracy are far worse. Just look at every Democrat-run big city; they're all a mess.

If you want a real eye-opener about how Democrats have destroyed our big cities and turned black neighborhoods into war zones, do an Internet search for this video using the terms "Kim Klacik Baltimore video."

Interestingly, race relations got worse, not better, during the Obama-Biden Administration. According to a New York Times/CBS poll taken 2016, at the end of Obama's second term, 69 percent of Americans felt that race relations were "generally bad," the highest number since the 1992 Rodney King riots in Los Angeles.

Fast forward to a January 2020 Gallup Poll, which found satisfaction with race relations jumped from 22 percent at the end of Obama's presidency to 36 percent under Trump.

And look at what blacks themselves are saying about Trump: A Rasmussen poll released on Friday (October 23) shows Trump's approval rating among blacks at 46 percent. As you know a lot of black celebrities and athletes have also endorsed Trump, and I predict he'll get a record share of the black vote on November 3.

ABORTION

I'm pro-life, and I do know most Americans agree on these two things: They are against late-term abortion (meaning after the baby is viable) and against taxpayer-funded abortion.

President Trump is opposed to late-term abortion and to taxpayer funding for it; in fact, he's the most pro-life President in recent history, as you can probably tell from his Supreme Court appointments. Joe Biden, like almost all Democrats, thinks abortion should be legal until (and even after) birth, and supports taxpayer funding for ALL abortions.

Biden and the Democrats will also try to legalize barbaric late-term abortion in all 50 states, as they have already done in New York, Rhode Island, and several other states.

Do you want late-term abortion legalized nationwide? And do you want your hard-earned money spent to subsidize other people's abortions? If so, Joe Biden is your man.

SUPREME COURT

President Trump and the Republicans are opposed to packing the Supreme Court and Joe Biden and the Democrats seem to be in favor of it. Simple as that.

* * * * *

As I said earlier, I completely understand the desire you might have to support the candidate with the most pleasant personality. That's just natural human behavior. However, I really believe this will be the most important election of our lifetime. And that's why I feel it's so important to vote for the candidate based on the issues rather than merely on their personalities.

Thank you again for considering my ideas and thoughts.

PS: Another important issue is political corruption, which of course we're all opposed to. But according to breaking news reports being censored by most all mainstream media, it appears Joe Biden has been caught up in a scandal that could severely compromise him as President.

Several people who have worked with Joe Biden and his son Hunter now confirm that Hunter made a secret deal to give his father half his income from deals with China and other countries – an arrangement that could have put tens of millions of dollars into Joe Biden's pocket.

I sure hope we don't end up with a situation where a U.S. President and his family have been accepting millions of dollars in bribes from Communist China. But after reading this article (and others) I'm sure you can make up your own mind.
